

German Puppet Theater "Kiepenkasper"

November 7th, 2011 4:00 pm

Deutsche Schule Charlotte's campus
at the British American School of Charlotte
7000 Endhaven Lane, Charlotte, NC 28277

ENTRANCE FREE!

The "Kiepenkasper" is not your usual puppet theater, because the Kasper's creator Uwe Spillmann, a well-known puppeteer from Germany, does not use a stage, but a basket called a "Kasperkiepe" to present his tall puppet-tales, which are a special treat for the young and young at heart.

Die Reise zur Pirateninsel (The Trip to Pirate Island)

A horrifying, but rather stupid pirate steals Kasper's bell. With the help of the audience and a quickly built ship, Kasper manages to reach the pirate's island. Will Kasper be able to fool the pirate and get his bell back...?

Die drei Zauberfedern (The Three Magical Feathers)

The witch teaches Kasper and the kids how to do magic. When they try out their new skill, however, they make a mistake and turn Kasper into a stinking pig. Now it is up to a princess or a prince to save poor Kasper with a kiss...

For students approximately 8-13 years.

Kasper's tales will be presented in German and English.
